

THE CHRONICLE.

Clarksville, Tenn., Oct. 4, 1879.

NEBLETT & TITUS,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING:
One Dollar per square of Ten lines or less.

NO. SQUARES.	1 MO.	3 MO.	6 MO.	12 MO.
1 Square.	2 50	4 50	8 00	15 00
2 Squares.	5 00	8 00	15 00	28 00
3 Squares.	7 50	12 00	22 50	42 00
4 Squares.	10 00	16 00	30 00	55 00
5 Squares.	12 50	20 00	37 50	68 00
6 Squares.	15 00	24 00	45 00	80 00
7 Squares.	17 50	28 00	52 50	92 00
8 Squares.	20 00	32 00	60 00	105 00
9 Squares.	22 50	36 00	67 50	118 00
10 Squares.	25 00	40 00	75 00	130 00

Advertisement of marriages and deaths free—obituary notices at special price.

Railroad Guide.
On and after Aug. 17, trains will arrive and depart as follows:

Direction.	Train.	Arrive.	Depart.
North.	Freight No. 4.	12:55 a. m.
North.	Passenger No. 4.	1:30 p. m.
North.	Freight No. 10.	2:30 p. m.
North.	Passenger No. 10.	3:00 p. m.
South.	Freight No. 5.		2:55 a. m.
South.	Passenger No. 5.		3:30 p. m.
South.	Freight No. 11.		4:30 p. m.
South.	Passenger No. 11.		5:00 p. m.

A tri-weekly train runs between Huntsville and Clarksville, leaving Huntsville at 10:30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Freight trains Nos. 6, 7, 8 and 9 leave for Nashville at 10:30 a. m. and 10:30 p. m. respectively. Passengers by No. 4 arrive at Nashville at 11:30 a. m. and 11:30 p. m. respectively. No. 5 freight connects at Guthrie for Nashville.

Our market is now furnished with an abundance of good meats.

Persons desiring to go to Nashville must take the morning train which leaves the depot at 8:23.

Elder W. Mooney will hold the fourth quarterly meeting to-day and to-morrow at the Methodist Church.

The C. C. G. returned from Nashville on Wednesday evening, covered with glory and dust.

Services will be held at Trinity Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, and at 7:30 in the evening.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen will meet in regular session on Tuesday night next.

There was a slight frost in this vicinity on Friday morning of last week, but did no damage.

The pretty, new little steamer, Sam Fowler, passed down Wednesday for Cairo, in place of the Celina, which is at Paducah for repairs.

JOHN S. NEBLETT, Trustee, has received the tax books for 1879, and is now ready to receive your taxes for this year.

Instead of going west, go to Tennessee. See advertisement in this paper of 84 farms, 14,000 acres, of rich land for sale.

A military company is being organized in Bowling Green, Kentucky. Bats will have a chance now of a lieutenantship.

R. Y. JOHNSON, Esq., of this county, has been appointed one of the jurors for the October term of the Federal court.

REV. J. R. PLUMMER, of the Female Academy, will preach at Bethlehem, on McCaddo, next Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m.

The Mechanics Building Association will loan to its members on next Wednesday two thousand dollars. Proposals must be in writing and handed to the Secretary.

The District Stewards for Clarksville District will meet at the Methodist Church in Clarksville on Thursday, Oct. 23, 1879, at 11 o'clock a. m. Business of importance requires a full attendance.

The Citizens' Building and Loan Association will loan to its members on the second Monday in this month, twenty-five hundred dollars. All proposals must be in writing and handed to R. E. McCulloch, the Secretary.

Coulter, Bro. & Stratton advertise their winter stock, including dress goods, shawls, cloaks, woven goods, fannels, blankets—in short, everything in the way of staple and fancy goods convertible, and several other things besides.

MONS. L. GAUCHAT continues to practice the regulation and repair of watches and clocks. He has now engaged the services of a skilled assistant in this department, Mr. Sylvain Leopold, who is represented as a first-class workman.

The Nashville Banner has this to say about our C. C. G. boys: "The movements of the company generally showed hard work and careful training, and Clarksville has just cause to feel proud of her company, as they are certainly an excellently drilled set of men."

Is the programme of the Sunday school meeting to be held at Murfreesboro on October 7th and 8th, which was published in our last issue, the compositor inadvertently omitted the following sentence: "7:50 p. m.—The Model Sunday School." Discussion opened by Rev. T. J. Duncanson.

Mrs. PARALEE HALE, daughter of the late Jack W. Hale, died at her residence on Main street on Sunday morning last. She had been an invalid for many years. Her funeral was preached at the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Brown, and her remains were deposited in Greenwood cemetery.

The prisoners confined in the cages in the second story of the jail, came very near making their escape on Tuesday night last. They, however, had saved through a bar or two of the iron, and were about to emerge through the sewer pipe, when Jailer Harris, always of the alert, discovered their intention and thwarted their plans. Our jail is very insecure, and the county authorities will be compelled to build a new jail to insure the safe keeping of prisoners.

The Rev. R. K. Brown.

The Methodist Church was crowded to its utmost capacity last Sunday, both morning and evening, to hear the parting words of the Rev. R. K. Brown prior to his transference to another field of labor.

This excellent minister has now spent four years among us, the longest period during which the rules of the Methodist Episcopal Church permit a minister to reside continuously in one place, and during that time has succeeded in making a favorable impression, which has not only been deeply stamped in his own congregation, but has extended far beyond the limits of any sectarian organization.

Upon men of all classes and all sects Mr. Brown has exercised an influence only attainable by one who is inspired by high aims and labors with energy and singleness of purpose for their accomplishment. We will add that his aims are not only high but broad. Nothing narrower in scope than the moral well-being of the whole community in which he lives is the object of his efforts; to combat evil wherever he meets it, to promote every enterprise for good is the mission which occupies his daily thoughts and actions.

In saying these things of our esteemed friend we are inditing no stereotyped encomium in compliance with the observance customary upon such occasions, but are stating facts of which we are personally cognizant. Mr. Brown's ministry in this city has been nearly contemporary with our occupation of the editorial chair of the Clarksville Chronicle, and though approaching them from different points of view, we have frequently been occupied with identical subjects relating to the social and moral questions of the day, and it has been a source of much encouragement to us to find ourselves almost always in accord with one whose opportunities are so great for observation and whose principles are so solidly based on the foundations of an enlightened Christianity. A conference with him has always been to us an inspiration for the work of our lives.

But we have yet the sermon of last Sunday to speak of. We are not generally attracted by farewell sermons; there is generally too much of sentimental egotism in them; the preacher being full of his own feelings and eager to excite his hearers to a similar frame of mind is tempted to elaborate efforts towards the pathetic, deeming himself successful only if he can leave his congregation dissolved in tears. Mr. Brown avoided this peril altogether; he announced from the first that he was not going to make a farewell sermon; he was not going to allude to his own feelings or to the success, greater or less, of his ministrations in the city. All that he left first to the Almighty, who knew what his efforts had been, what his difficulties, and through whose aid he had done what he had done; and secondly, to the candid consideration of his people. The subject of his sermon was to be an exhortation as to the reception they should give his successor, whoever he might be.

He urged on them that they should accord him their sympathy, so needful for the sustenance of his spirit in the arduous labors he will find before him. He impressed upon them the duty of punctuality in furnishing his stipend, not enjoining any thing extravagant, but that the minister should know what he has to depend on, so as not to have his thoughts distracted from his spiritual work by anxiety for the temporal needs of his family. He cautioned them against fastidiousness in criticizing the selection made at the Conference, and finally demanded their constant prayers for him throughout his ministry among them. In urging these duties upon them he made frequent acknowledgments of the kindness and zeal with which these conditions had been observed in his own instance, and as the only allusion with which he would trust himself to his own feelings, desired that whatever kindly impulses they might cherish towards him might take the form of love, goodwill and sympathy accorded to his successor.

The discourse was listened to with wrapt attention by a very large congregation, consisting of representatives from all other denominations as well as the full quota of his own people.

We have only now to record our own deep respect for the estimable clergyman now leaving us, our high estimation of the privilege we have enjoyed of a friendly intercourse with him of four years (though not a member of his congregation), our heartfelt regret at parting with him, and our earnest wishes for his success and happiness in the next field of his pastoral duties.

Be Ready.
During spells of unseasonably warm weather such as we are now experiencing it is well to be prepared for sudden changes—first rain and then a cold spell with frost. Don't be taken unprepared, but buy your umbrella before you have to go through a shower of rain to get it. Be prepared especially with an overcoat and warm undervest before the cold spell overtakes you, instead of catching the pneumonia prevalent at present.

Pitman & Lewis are ready for you at all points. Their overcoats are so perfect that they make you long for cold weather, and they have a new brand of umbrellas warranted to keep their water as long as they are used, manufactured by the sterling old firm Wm. A. Brown & Co. Go and examine them.

The Night Spirit.
On Sunday morning last Elder Wm. A. Broadhurst, pastor of the Christian church, said to his congregation, that his relations with the Rev. R. K. Brown had been so pleasant and agreeable that he would ask of them the privilege of closing the church that night and that they would all attend the service at the Methodist church. This is what we call a true Christian spirit and worthy of imitation.

A Card.
EDITOR CHRONICLE: There is a rumor, spread in town by my competitors, that I have moved away. I wish to state through your valuable paper that I am still in my place of business, and persons circulating such news intend to injure me. No doubt you are aware yourself that I have not moved away. You will oblige me by inserting the above. Very respectfully,
C. SHUBINSKI,
Proprietor of the New York Store.

The C. C. Guards.

The boys have got back from Nashville rather disappointed in some respects, but in high spirits notwithstanding. At the competitive drill last Tuesday they found themselves in competition with the Rock City Guards and the Porter Rifles, both of Nashville. Before their appearance on the ground, being unknown, the bets were heavy against them; indeed they were hardly thought of in the match at all, every one's thoughts being directed to the two Nashville companies, each of which had its active partisans; but when the three companies had appeared together on the ground, the men soldierly appearance of the Clarksville Guards and their brisk and precise execution of the various maneuvers brought them decidedly into notice, and many were induced to risk their money on them.

The arrangements for the competitive drill were, that each company should be put through its probation for twenty minutes, and after that, if the judges were not satisfied, ten minutes further test should be allowed for each. On the twenty minutes drill, to the surprise of the Nashville people, the Clarksville Guards were eleven marks ahead of the best of the other two, and bet were two to one in their favor. When the extra ten minutes drill were given, however, the order was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their laurels dropped to the ground, and final award was given, "four fours from right to the rear," a maneuver which they have executed a hundred times on the streets of Clarksville, but unaccountably the whole company got going; the Captain quickly got them in line again and executed the order correctly, but it was too late. All their